The owners of the upper ferry have found a new source of revenue. They have feared up their road to the ferry on the West Virginia side and charge the owners of night soil carts 20 cents a load for the privilege of dumping their fifth from privy vaults into the river at that point. This said that they are making as much as three or four dollars per night in this way. As the dumping of this fifth into the river is a violation of law, it is a question whether the ferry company by this notion does not become a party to the crime.—Bellaire Tribuit.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Bank of West Virginia at Wheeling, on the 22d day of May, 1885, to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of James Maxwell, Esq., lately deceased, the committee appointed to report a preamble and resolution expressive of the feelings of the meeting, submitted the following, which were unanimously adopted;

"James Maxwell, late the honored President of this bank, who was greatly endeared to us and highly respected by all for the many virtues that adorned his character, having been summoned from us by death, it is eminently proper that we should express our appreciation of the deceased and our own grief for his departure from our midst.

His conservative business character and his ripe judgment, coupled with a cour-teous and affable deportment, were prom-inent traits of character. Of strict up-rightness and integrity in all the relations of life, he was prompt and persevering and lived to see his labors crowned with de-served success.

At a special meeting of the Board of Managers of this Company, held this day at its office, the following proceedings were taken in reference to the sudden death of its late Vice President, Mr. James Maxwell.

It is with deepest sorow that the surviving members of this Board have heard of the very sudden and wholly unexpected death of their late associate and friend, Mr. James Maxwell.

For many years his association with them as a member of this Board and as the Vice President of the company, has been uniformly pleasant, and from their intimate acquaintance with him, and their knowledge of his faithfulness in the discharge of his dules as an officer of this company, and of his honesty and integrity exhibited in all his vailed dealings and relations in life, they can truthrilly and unhesitatingly put upon record the stateunhesitatingly put upon record the state-ment, that in his death this company has

DECORATION DAY

The Arrangements Being Made for its Ob-servance by the G. A. R. Hollidsy Post G. A. R., of this city, held quite largely attended, not only by the members of the Post but by old soldiers who have never joined. This evening the Post will hold a society meeting at which nene but members will be admitted. These meetings are held for the purpose of completing arrangements for a proper observance of Decoration Day, which occurs one week from to-day. Everything thus far has progressed smoothly and satisfactority and the indications are that the day will be made a memorable one. A subscription paper was started yesterday and a nice sum rised to help in defraying the expenses of the day. To-night the Post will appoint committees to visit all the cemetres on the 30th and decorate the graves of the fallen commades. The Post will be thankful for any information about the location ful for any information about the location of the last resting places of the heroes, so that none may be overlooked in the dis-

of the last resting places of the hereos, so that none may be overlooked in the distribution of flowers. The Post will also be thankful for flowers or any aid that may be extended. Flowers can be sent to leadquarters in K. of L. Hall, Friday night or early Saturday morning.

In the afternoon there will be a short parade. Major Joseph Barker has been appointed Chief Marshal of the day. The parade will conclude in City Hall square at the soldiers' monument. Here the G. A. R. ritual provided for Decoration Day services will be used. An oration will probably be delivered by Judge R. II. Cochran, whose reputation as a soldier and orator is high. Prof. F. H. Crago will also deliver an address. There will be a chorus of about one hundred children, which will sing two or three particule songs. These services will not be long or tedlons, but, on the contrary, brief and full of interest.

M. Gutman & Co --- Clothiers,

NEVER CAUGHT NAPPING

Always Working & Wide Awake

We know our business and attend to it. This Week will be a Banner Week for Bargains. We dare any Dealer to try and match our prices. It can't be done, for THEY ARE MATCH.

The Idea of Makinga Profit

On our Goods this season does not enter ou head. The only question to be considered what will the loss be? But let the loss be what it may, we are going to sell our stock while the season is on. We are not the kind of people 'to hang onto" our goods, wishing and hoping for customers who will buy them and pay us a profit. Not a bit of it. If the season is "off and buyers few we put such prices on our goods as to make them go. Take for instance last week—we inaugurated a Cut Price Sale in Men's and Boys' Clothing, and as a result we did a rattling and rushing trade.

People will Buy if the Prices are Low Enough

We care not what others may do, but as for us we are going to sell our goods and stand the loss like men. This week the low prices will be a perfect panic for Poor People, at which we shall sell Clothing and Furnishing Goods for less money than before known in this State. In many instances articles will be sold at less than one-half regular rates. Come and see, that seeing, you may believe and buy.

A Pair of Roller Shates or a Complete Base Ball Outfit with each Boy
